

Policy-window associations survive influence checks

Pair-specific market controls; comparisons are not independently identified causal effects.